

DaimlerChrysler AG
Stuttgart

Abstract

5

When there is no wheelchair to be transported in a vehicle with a load surface that has been lowered relative to the vehicle floor to take a wheelchair and pivotally connected to the outer end of which is a ramp 10 that can be lowered from a secured upright position towards the roadway to assist movement, once an associated door has been opened, the ramp can be lowered towards the load surface until the ramp forms one surface with the higher vehicle floor.

032460/WO/1